

APN incorrectly linked to Winfield Original Gold; Red; Blue 30's

Due to a data entry error, this week's host file included an incorrect update to three Winfield Original 30's products that has resulted in these products potentially scanning incorrectly. In most cases you may notice the packet version is no longer in your back office system and may require manual intervention to re-instate the product if it is ranged in your store.

The following details show the correct version of these products. If you range these products please check your system and make manual adjustments to reflect the correct Product number and APN. Please note, a similar adjustment may be necessary next week when the correction is included in your next host file.
